

Uniquus Consultech Announces Strategic Partnership with Zell Education to Deliver Learning Solutions in ESG domain

To help professionals and students build ESG related skills

Mumbai, India, 09th May, 2024: Uniquus Consultech, the tech-enabled global consulting firm that specialises in ESG and Accounting & Reporting Consulting announced a strategic partnership with Zell Education. Uniquus has strong domain knowledge and practical experience in ESG consulting and works with leading companies across India, Middle East and the US. Zell is a leading provider of high-quality learning experiences for working professionals and students.

This partnership, which will operate in India and the Middle East, aims to meet the acute need for ESG skills in today's workforce by combining Uniquus' deep expertise in ESG with the new-age learning platform of Zell. As part of this strategic partnership, Uniquus and Zell will jointly offer working professionals and students a holistic and transformational learning experience in the ever-evolving sphere of ESG.

"We are excited to partner with Zell and add value to students and professionals by helping them build ESG skills and contribute meaningfully to their organization's success. This program is designed on the same rigorous standards and multifaceted points of view as our consulting assignments, and brings real-life business examples into the learning experience," said Anu Chaudhary, Partner and Global Head of ESG Consulting, Uniquus Consultech.

Pratham Barot, CEO & Co-Founder of Zell Education expressed enthusiasm about the partnership, saying, "More and more finance professionals feel that knowledge of ESG is important for their careers and Uniquus' deep domain knowledge and rich experience as a tech-enabled consulting firm aligns perfectly with Zell's mission. We look forward to collaborating closely and building the capabilities of students and professionals."

Through this strategic partnership, Uniquus and Zell will build skills in topics such as ESG standards and frameworks adopted globally, climate risk, greenhouse gas accounting providing comprehensive insights into ESG. These programs will offer flexible weekend batch schedules, allowing working professionals to balance their professional and personal commitments effectively.
